The chanting of sutras promotes the morning silence, creating a special kind of dignified, calm atmosphere. And then comes the tasty delicacies and beautifully-presented monastery vegetarian dishes. This is the other side of Koyasan that only travelers can come to know.

What is a shukubo?

Experience hospitality in a shukubo, the kind of lodging for guests. It is a simple room, but offers tea and study of sutras, an experience that can be enjoyed from the beginning of the morning to the end of the day.
